The Verdict - 1972

Burton Andrews

Professor Burton Andrews has been a member of the faculty of Albany Law School since February, 1948. Prior thereto, he was a professor at the School of Law of the University of Florida. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan School of Law and holds the degree of Juris Doctor. He was one time a graduate fellow of the University of Michigan. After graduation from law school, Professor Andrews practiced law with the firm of Finck & Huber of Buffalo, New York, and later with Cravath, Swaine & Moore of New York City.

Throughout the years Professor Andrews has earned the respect and affection of the students at Albany Law School for his great capabilities as a teacher and for his gentle good humor. It is with deep respect, affection and gratitude that the Class of 1972 dedicates its VERDICT to him.

Contractor For The Albany
Law School Addition

June, 1972

Many of the events that occurred at ALS during the 1971-72 year marked a significant departure from the conservative approach to the solution of problems in earlier years. Student activism has begun to replace student inactivity and indifference. Yet despite the opportunity this has presented to politicize The Verdict through the use of editorial comments on controversial issues, we chose to present coverage of all the significant events of the past year without the use of such editorial comments. This approach was followed not because we were lacking for opinions, but because a yearbook, by its very nature, provides the opportunity for only a few people to express their opinions. We hope the yearbook will help people to recall those controversial issues which have not yet been resolved, and that the 1972-73 year will include the establishment of a school newspaper to provide a needed forum for the expression and exchange of ideas concerning such issues.

It's difficult to properly thank all those individuals who have worked on the yearbook since many extraordinary demands were put on them this year, especially since the yearbook's coverage was expanded to include events running through Graduation on June 1st. The "regulars," Fred Degen, Sheila Galvin and Helen and Larry Volk were always there on short notice and for long hours with a sense of humor that made the work enjoyable and satisfying. Special thanks goes to Steve Harrison for acting as our accountant, to John Grasso and Ray Kelly, Jr. for their special photographic contributions, to our advertisement staff for raising some much-needed revenue, and to many others, including Robert Ayling, George Cushing, H. Nahal and Prof. F. X. Wallace, for helping us through many of our crises.

Sincerely,

Dennis F. Irwin
